Our client is an independent, non-government community-based charity working in support of animal welfare. From guiding policy and connecting communities, to providing life-changing care and supporting fundraising activities, the team's broad provision of services is reflected in the diversity of activities across the state.

Reporting to the Head of Development, this senior role within the organisation will see you leading and developing an already strong Gifts in Wills program and help build the Major Gifts activities, as the organisation embarks on its transformational approach to invest and broaden its fundraising capacity. You will engage with its significant donors, matching their passions and generosity for real change – improving animal welfare in our community.

Building upon an outstanding reputation and the goodwill our client enjoys for its extensive achievements, you will work in a positive and collaborative environment. Accordingly, your strong people management skills will see you leading and developing the Supporter Relations team, creating a high performance culture where every individual can grow and develop in their role.

This critical role demands a suitably experienced professional with proven success in relationship fundraising in high-value philanthropy and planned giving, along with providing superior donor experience to meet supporters' expectations.

If you have the acumen and passion to drive new levels of success in support of this much loved organisation, please apply to cv@dakinmayers.com.au by 25 June 2018. Alternatively call Rick Mayers on 03 9629 6999 for a confidential discussion.
