

CHIEF FINANCIAL OFFICER

- National leadership role
- Australia's largest not-for-profit

Australia

With a proud history of 150 years of serving the Australian community, The Salvation Army is able to draw on the values of its heritage, set its vision on a better future and work towards transforming the lives of those in need, without discrimination. This strategic leadership role presents a rare opportunity to use your proven financial acumen to enable TSA to fulfil its mission.

As the Chief Financial Officer you will hold the most senior Finance position in TSA, providing support and recommendations to leadership, high level technical expertise, and business/commercial advice on all matters relating to Finance. You will be responsible for driving, directing, controlling and administering all financial activities of TSA to ensure it has the financial ability to pursue and deliver its vital services.

The successful candidate must be CPA/CA qualified and have top level leadership experience in a multi-faceted organisation with diverse operations and stakeholders. You will be a strategic thinker with big picture focus who can question the status quo and generate new ideas. The role is based in Melbourne.

If you have the skills and experience to contribute to the wonderful work of this values-based organisation please apply to cv@dakinmayers.com.au by 10 July or call Philip Mayers on 1800 241 243 for more information.
